

purekwe kind of tree, the leaf
has a concave form and is used to dip water (cf. pu).

pureu dust (in the air).

puru (sever, break or cut in
two) (in: capuru, cikopuru,
çopuru, jipuru, jopuru, kɛpuru,
kipuru, kwipuru, ʃepuru,
tipuru, tupuru, and presumably tapuru) (variant: buru) (see pʃrʃ).

puuru the second (as in counting yam piles) (cf. puu, ru).

pušaa pubis.

pušaare his pubis.

puuše the third (in counting piles of yams) (cf. puu, ʃee).

pūšēm wing [pū "feather", ʃē
"side", mē "arm"].

pušepwīrī to turn over on the
side, to expose the bottom (cf. pu, ʃepwīrī).

puu ʃopia the maternal clan (cf.
puu, ʃopia).

putu to bank, bank earth around (as crops).

puvii bring, press, two things
together (cf. pu, vii).

pūxīrī run (person) (cf. xʃrʃ).

pūxwā beard (cf. pū, xwā).

pūxwajimē under arm hair (cf.
pū, xwajimē).

pūxwanū fibers in coconut husk
and also the fibrous sheets of
the coconut tree.

pi exhale smoke, blow water off
mouth (rain, or after diving).

pidi to each, for each, apiece,
to all sides.

fɛ pidi go, each in his own way.

pīrī broken, severed, interrupted,

stopped, cleared up (weather)
(see puru, buru).

piite a meeting, encounter,
junction.

piti (to bring things together).
in:

fapiti tie things together.

kapiti to pick up a number of
things and put them together.

nɛpiti hand signal (palm
forward) for infiltration
through woods.

nɛpiti to fold up (as a spread
out cloth).

pupiti to bring together,
fold something together on itself.

(Presumably related to bit+.)

PW

pwa 1. in:

pwakwetaa seashore.

pwanāwā beach.

pwa 2. the reverse, back, bottom.

pware its bottom.

pwā 1. in:

pwadia to split with a blunt instrument.

pwagoro to break, shatter with
a stick, etc.

pwaame to kill, stun, with a
stick, etc.

pwā 2. in:

pwācii dam up water.

pwade obstruct water.

pwā 3. 1. fruit.

pware its fruit.

2. A drop (of liquid).

pwā 4. to peel (as a banana) (syn: poru).

pwā 5. beat clothes (balled up)
to wash them.

pwā 6. white (a variant form)
(especially with ɔme)